ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

John Mitovich, candidate for the three-year selectman's term in North Reading is a man of demonstrated qualifications. He has demonstrated repeatedly that:

(1) He understands the town's short and long-range problems, the forces at work creating them, and that he has a concrete, positive program geared toward their solution.

(2) He is no morning glory candidate-one that blooms only at election time but fades after the voters have gone home, never to be heard from again. He has demonstrated a genuine, year-round interest in the town's affairs, and a willingness to devote time and effort toward their constructive solution.

(3) He has the courage of his convictions. Repeatedly he spoke up on the floor of the town meeting, or through the editorial columns of local newspapers on matters affecting the interests of the majority. His position on the key issues is a matter of public record.

(4) He has a sound knowledge of state and local government. This stems, in large part, from his six years of professional training as General Electric public affairs specialist.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Stepped-up industrial development efforts are the second major recommendation in my 7-point program to stabilize North Reading's mounting tax rate. Realistically, the task ahead is a challenging one. It can be met, however, if we have on the Board of Selectmen people who understand the ramifications of industrial development, and who are willing to work glove-in-hand with the Industrial Development Commission and other related town boards on the problem of attracting job-and-payroll-producing industry to North Reading.

As selectman, I would take the following action to strengthen the town's industrial development potential:

(1) Revitalize the Industrial Development Commission—By expanding it to a minimum of seven professional people who would be selected so that they represent a cross-section of the types of skills needed on such a commission, i.e., tax accounting, engineering (industrial, civil, manufacturing), public relations, etc.

(2) Initiate a broad program using local newspapers and mailings to the home to educate the community on what industrial development means, what new industry expects of a community, and the community's responsibility-individually and collectively-toward attracting new industry.

(3) Initiate a thorough analysis of the town's economic strengths and weaknesses related to industrial development, and encourage development of programs to improve the weak ones. (The best impression upon industry is made by a community which tries to develop a balance sheet. If we try to attract industry with promotional programs that attempt to sweep our shortcomings under the rug, we will make a grave error and fool no one but ourselves.)

(4) Implement, where feasible within the town's economic ability, those features of the General Plan submitted in 1959 by the Planning & Renewal Associates which would enhance the town's competitive position for new industry. First and foremost, effort should be made immediately to evaluate fully and realistically the industrial development value the new Route 93 holds for North Reading, and the necessary action taken to make this area more marketable for new industry. (If industry were to come into this area at 25% coverage and valued at 40¢ of say $10 s.f. construction cost, and the area were only half utilized, the added valuation would be about $2 million, which is enough to make a difference to the town.)

(5) Utilize to a greater degree state consultation and planning services available for promoting local industrial development.

(6) Keep our state legislators more fully apprised of their responsibility to vote for legislation that would stimulate rather than hamper the state's thus, North Reading's ability to attract new industry. (At present, very little evidence exists that our selectmen are conscious of what importance a potential employer attaches to legislative actions affecting business, or that they have consulted with our legislators on this very important matter.)

(7) Work with the Industrial Development Commission to develop programs designed to build understanding and enlist the active support

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Donald Roberts, 133 Elm St., North Reading, a resident of North Reading since 1954 announces his candidacy for the office of Selectmen, 3 year term.

During the last seven years, Mr. Roberts has instituted a fair program in all his business transactions with the people of North Reading. Proving by far that 'honesty is the best policy.' Success does not come easy and commands many long and tedious hours of devotion to duty as proven by his successful business venture.

Mr. Roberts, father of four children, two of whom attend local schools, feels that the future of North Reading rests with the youth and younger men of the present.

Mr. Roberts, a graduate of Reading High School, Class of 1945, has also attended technical schools in Boston. A disabled veteran, he served in World War II, attached to the Army Air Forces. Re-enlisting in the Air Force in 1947, Mr. Roberts completed a two year comprehensive course in Radar Communications and acted in the capacity of Section Chief during the Berlin Air Lift out of Westover Air Force Base.

Mr. Roberts, a property owner and taxpayer is aware of the pressing problems of rising taxes in North Reading. That this problem should be tackled with an all out effort. That new ideas are needed in facing this problem and that the people of North Reading must work together as a team to achieve this end. More particularly, there is a dynamic need for cooperation and exchange of ideas between town officials.

and cooperation of merchants, businessmen, property owners, town officials, state legislators, and all other citizens for attracting new industry, which is necessary if North Reading is to succeed in this effort.

These are some of the steps that must be taken if North Reading realistically expects to win new industry. Unless they are taken, North Reading will lose in its struggle to attract non-residential tax-producing revenues needed to stabilize the tax rate.

Sincerely yours,
John Mitovich
Candidate for Selectman

AT LAST!

A GIRL

WILMINGTON. Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Perry of Garden Avenue, are proudly announcing the arrival of their daughter, Miss Carol Ann Marie Perry at Lowell General Hospital, last Monday afternoon. Carol is entering a household of seven boys. The elated grandparents are Mrs. Mary Willock of Dorchester on the maternal side and Mrs. Mary Perry of San Diego on the paternal side. Welcome to Wilmington Miss Perry!

Editor Kenneth A. Horner, The Wilmington, Del., Suburban News—While one must bow to the superior wisdom of our educators, it was interesting to read that the "experts" meeting at Santa Fe, N.M., took a dim view of what has been accomplished and asked for a "drastic overhaul" in the school system. They want to raise the quality and eliminate the frills, proposals which will receive a hearty "hurrah" from disturbed parents and overburdened taxpayers.

Tel N.O. 4-3892

The final meeting of St. Theresa's Sodality, before the Lenten season, was held Thursday evening at the Church. Rev. John R. Lizio, director, opened the meeting with a recital of the rosary. An interesting book review was given by Mrs. John M. Magee and Mrs. Edward J. Leary, of the True Source of the Sodality Spirit, by Hugo Rahner, S.J. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament followed.

After the service, Sodalityists adjourned to St. Theresa's Center where an unusual demonstration of a baptismal show was given by Mrs. Ralph Hurley and Mrs. Charles Smith of St. Mary's Church, Beverly. Taking part in the program were Mrs. Leary as priest and Mrs. Magee as moderator.

A social hour followed, with Mrs. Gilbert Starble, Mrs. Alonzo Gorman and Mrs. Daniel Keane as hostesses.

Richard D. Johnson, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, 14 Flint St., has been accepted at the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance, Boston. Richard plans, eventually, to become a CPA.

Hadley Hoyt III, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. Hadley Hoyt, 143 Haverhill St., has been accepted at Northeast Teachers College, Kirksville, Missouri. Hadley, Vice-President of the National Honor Society, and member of the Track Team and Dramatics Club, will enroll in the pre-professional course with plans to specialize later in the field of medicine.

Ann Loud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loud, 184 Haverhill St., has been accepted for nurse's training at Lawrence General Hospital, Nurses' Training School.

Ann, an active member of the Senior Class, is treasurer of the NOREHISC Girls' Club and a member of the yearbook staff.

Glad to hear there is an improvement in the condition of Sgt. and Mrs. Albert Hurst's daughter, who has been hospitalized.

The proposition of a representative type of town meeting will be one of the topics for discussion Monday night, Feb. 13, at 8 PM at the E. Ethel Little School. John Sargeant, member of the committee appointed by the Selectmen to study North Reading's town meeting system, will present the report of that committee, and the reasons why it has recommended that the town change from an open to a representative form of meeting.

The report and recommendations of the Structure of Town Government Committee will be presented by Chairman Norman Kerman. One of the suggestions of this group is to transfer maintenance of the dump from the Board of Health to the Board of Public Works.

A film which has been secured by Town Engineer, George Maynard, on Sanitary Land Fill, will also be shown.

This forum for presentation of data relative to articles which will be presented at the Town Meeting is being sponsored by the League of Women Voters, as a part of its effort for their informed ballot.

The local League of Women Voters will conduct its annual Finance Drive, Feb. 22 through March 1. Other than dues, the League, which is a non-partisan organization, is supported entirely through this once-a-year drive.

The committee appointed last Spring by the Planning Board to study the possibility of re-zoning Main St., has filed a five page type-written report with the Planning Board and has included five articles to be inserted in the Annual Town Warrant.

The Committee has recommended that in certain sections, the highway business zone be increased to depths of 1000 feet, other sections to 500 feet. An entirely new district, called Class A Industrial District has been recommended for use in specified locations and would permit only office buildings, research facilities, light assembly was baptized at the Union Congregational Church on Jan. 8.

New members will be received into the Congregational Church on Maundy Thursday evening, Mar. 30. Anyone wishing to unite with the church at that time may contact the Church Office as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guedet have been named co-chairmen of the 1961 Annual Congregational Fair.

There will be a Blitz Party for the benefit of St. Theresa's CYO at St. Theresa's Center, Friday at 8 PM. All townspeople are cordially invited to attend.

The Committee Studying the advisability of restoring the second floor of Week's Memorial Library, has recommended that the Ballroom side of the second floor be restored, deeming it not only possible, but advisable. This committee is composed of Earl Donie, Mrs. Robert E. Ham, Mrs. James Herrick, Howard Hughes and Mrs. Robert Parker.

Mr. Donie determined that the two dividing walls, which had been added after the original construction, could be easily removed with no damage to the building. Although the existing stairway is narrow, it should be kept in tact, if at all possible, because of its historic value and architectural interest. If fire laws call for an additional, wider stairway, one could be added at the back of the building. The ceilings need only whitening and the floors cleaning and painting.

Mr. Springall, architect for Week's Memorial Library confirmed the practicability of using the room for gatherings of thirty-five to fifty people.

If non-professional work, such as cleaning, removing partitions and careful removal of wallpaper can be done free of charge, the cost, excluding heat and light, should be under a thousand dollars, states the Committee.

The Committee feels that the restored room would enhance the historic value of the Library and be particularly suited for reference reading, art exhibits, lectures, and small meetings of an educational nature.

Cub Scout Pack #731 will hold its annual Blue and Gold Banquet on Saturday, Feb. 11, at 6:30 PM in the New Parish Hall of the Union Congregational Church. Great enthusiasm had been shown for this annual evening for Cub Scouts and their families.

The third meeting of the season of the Monday Club of the Union Congregational Church will take place Monday evening, Feb. 27 at 8 at the new parish hall. All women of the church are invited to attend this meeting. Following the business meeting, a program of Music for a Winter's Night will be presented by the program committee. Refreshments will be served.

Local realtors have announced the establishment of the Ralph A. Crosby Memorial Library, in honor of one of their senior members. The Eastern Middlesex Board of Realtors took action at a recent meeting to establish the library at EMER Headquarters in Stoneham.

The proposal, made by Urban L. McNally, membership chairman, received unanimous approval. Pledges to the Library Fund were announced, among them, one from Mrs. Crosby, wife of the late Ralph A. Crosby, who, for 30 years, had been a well known builder, developer and realtor in the Wakefield area.

This research library will be available to all members of the Eastern Middlesex Board of Realtors.

The North Reading High School Basketball Team is following in the footsteps of the football team. The pattern set by the gridiron group is now being emulated by the hoopsters, who have suffered only one defeat this season.

Their recent victory over Methuen qualified them for the Eastern Mass. Basketball Tournament. Good luck, boys!

Mr. D' worked during the last storm, with the Highway Department from the 'crack of dawn' Saturday until late Sunday and even at that, our street did not get broken out until late Sunday afternoon, so, you can see, I have my 'gripes' too—but there is one question I would like to ask in defense of this group which has been doing its utmost to please everyone—What do you habitual complainers expect them to do with the snow which rolls into your driveways when the plow passes?

How about our fine-feathered friends? Have you forgotten to feed them lately? If you have never fed them before, now is the time, as they are searching desperately for food. A few crumbs of bread will do, and you will be rewarded in the Spring with their chirping! Even the thoughts of Spring is rewarding enough!

100 Years Ago This Week...in THE CIVIL WAR

(Events exactly 100 years ago this week that led to the Civil War—told in the language and style of today.)

Lincoln's Train Bound For Nation's Capital

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Feb. 11—President-elect Abraham Lincoln left this Illinois capital early today for Washington, the shouted well-wishes of a rain-soaked crowd ringing in his ears.

"No one, not in my situation, can appreciate my feeling of sadness at this parting," the gaunt Republican said in an impromptu speech from the rear of the Wash train that will be his home during the long trip to the White House.

LINCOLN AS THE CURRY CHIEF; CANDIDATE for four regular Army officers, and several advisors who have been close to him since his election as 16th president of the United States.

Lincoln's group included his wife, Mary Todd; his son Robert and Gov. Richard Yates of Illinois. His official staff was headed by his two youthful secretaries, John George Nicolay and John Hay; Col. Elmer Ephraim Ellsworth, Lincoln's 24-year-old secretary-in-chief; four regular Army officers, and several advisors who have been close to him since his election as 16th president of the United States.

The train consisted of only one passenger coach, a baggage car and the locomotive, which let forth a burst of steam during the president-elect's speech, as if eager for departure.

DATE OF Lincoln's arrival in Washington is uncertain, apparently as a result of precautions taken by Col. Ellsworth.

But it is known that along the way, Lincoln will visit Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Albany, Troy, Trenton, Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Baltimore.

For a Monday morning, the crowd that gathered to see Lincoln off was sizable, overflowing the meager passenger space in the bleak Great Western depot here.

"To this place, and the kindness of these people, I owe everything," Lincoln told the assembled town-folk.

"Here I have lived for a quarter of a century, and have passed from a young man to an old man," he recalled. (Though born in Hardin, Ky., the president-elect—who will be 52 tomorrow—has lived in Illinois since 1830, when he settled as a storekeeper, surveyor and postmaster at nearby New Salem, a snug hamlet of some three dozen log houses on the banks of the Sangamon river.)

LINCOLN reminded his audience that one of his sons was buried in Springfield and that all of his children were born there. "I now leave, not knowing where I am going, but I feel that I am going to the great future of this country."

Lincoln's train left Springfield at 10:30 a.m. for Washington, D.C.

Really Reading !!

By 944-0188
Donna-Lane Boudreau

The weather, town meetings and the coming elections seem to be prime conversational topics, although not necessarily in that order. Old timers claim to remember, and probably do, winters as severe as this but the young adults doesn't recall so much snow and such low temperatures for a similar lengthy period. A town meeting assignment can be a bore, a chore, or a source of informative tidbits for the small town correspondent over and above the actual news of the night. In any event it affords a fascinating study of human behavior. And last week's special session was no exception. After several sessions an observant scribe well versed in the seating and voting habits of town meeting members... The Board of Selectmen occupy the front and center seats flanked by the School Committee in the left section and the Board of Public Works on the right. Last week, as so frequently happens, a standing vote is a far cry from a voice vote on the same issue. And so it was on the move to set a ceiling on the orbiting tax rate. After being so close as to be indeterminate a stand up and be counted vote found a fast shuffle that ended in a final tally of 96 to 41 to defeat the measure. At the same session tempers flared a bit over the proposed increase from 3 to 5 selectmen.

The overall impression was that the town meeting members had had enough of the whole subject. But at least one progressive remark came from the issue that met ultimate defeat with the three men remaining. And that was Charles Stratton's statement that it might be well to re-examine the merits of a town manager plan for Reading. It followed implied disparagement of the very thought of a town manager. Interesting, isn't it, how many town meeting members serve the town in another capacity and therefore have a vote on the very issues they have already decided? For example, so many of the Finance Committee occupy seats and vote on their own recommendations, and this applies to the School Committee, Boards of Public Works and Selectmen. Could things be different if town meeting membership were comprised of 160 impartial citizens all of whom were voting on the articles and were completely free of bias by reason of allegiance to board participation. It seems too, as though not more than a dozen members have anything to say about the business at hand. And those that do protest or interrogate are quickly branded uncooperative by their more amenable brethren. They are just not members of the club! There are exceptions to the rule, of course, and a good majority are there to do their civic duty and they do it well. See you at the annual town meeting and just so we won't be in a rut, it will be front and center, fifth row, for your correspondent.

As a collector for the Mother's March of Dimes, we averaged $.25 per house. Although other areas were obviously more generous, this group refused to give even a few cents to a worthy cause. One woman who answered the door informed us no one was home—an interesting statement at best. Another sedate gentleman refused by saying "Mama's not at home." We are still perplexed whether he meant his mother or his wife. Even worse were those who refused to answer the door although they were conspicuously home. If every individual had contributed $.50 as one woman did, we would have been able to collect twice the amount we did. Instead five residents out of 16 gave larger amounts. On the whole it is a sad comment.

The Payson E. Pierce Memorial Altar will be dedicated at the First Congregational Church March 5. The late Rev. Pierce was minister emeritus of the local church.

To be present at the service are: Rev. and Mrs. Kermit Nord. Mrs. Nord is the former Barbara Pierce, daughter of the late pastor.

The Reading Chamber of Commerce with their wives as guests, were addressed by Edward W. Gallacher, manager of the Boston Better Business Bureau last week.

Donald Taylor closed his Lowell Street Quality Food Store last week. Mr. Taylor did not feel the volume of business warranted continuation of operation.

Boyd H. Stewart, attended the Mass. Town Clerk's Association meeting held at Hotel Kenmore, last week, representing the town as town clerk. The group discussed gathering information on voting machines and honored retiring Town Clerk Ralph R. Currier.

Mr. Stewart returned to his post on Monday.

She was the guest of Allen Adriance, 6 School St., Andover.

Miss Willson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Willson Jr.

Miss Gerry Ann Sias and Joseph Perry were the representatives of the junior class of Reading Memorial High School at a conference of teenage drivers held under the supervision of the Registry of Motor Vehicles and Eugene J. Fanning, supervisor of the driver education program.

Under discussion were bills currently before the legislature dealing with raising the age to 18 for teenagers, among others.

Fifteen schools were represented at the conference and those attending were asked to speak with their student councils on the problems of youthful drivers.

Three building permits for new homes and five miscellaneous permits were issued for January 1961 for a total of $64,000 estimated building costs. The sum doubled that for the corresponding period of 1960 when only one permit for a new home was issued.

A television panel discussion on the topic, "Deadlock over Germany" moderated by Christian A. Herter, Jr. will be viewed by the members of the Decisions 1961 panelists. The program is the first of 8 to be discussed by the group.

The meeting will be conducted at the home of the chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Winkler, 52 Pearl Street.

A panel discussion on the school budget will be sponsored by the Reading Memorial High School PTA, Feb. 24 at 8 PM.

On the panel will be the Supt. of Schools, Robert F. Perry, Chairman of the School Board, Paul R. Berg-holtz and Chairman of the Finance Sub-committee, Carl B. Pitman. Kenneth C. Latham will act as moderator. Questions will be submitted from the floor or they may be sent to Mrs. H.W. Bridges, 476 Franklin St., before the meeting.

The general public is invited to attend.

Tryouts were held for the Pearl Street School PTA production of "Aimee" an original musical comedy by William O'Donnell. Rehearsals will start next week for the April production.

"Old Times—Good Times" is the title of the program to be presented by the Reading Memorial High School, Friday night in the auditorium at 8 PM.

The production is under the direction of Malcolm Valentine, James Peel, Fran Page and Charles Nute. Highlighting the program will be several barbershop singing groups.

A special course "Strike before it strikes you" will be featured at the Training

That's a big dose of bitter medicine they're brewing in Washington. We refer to the medical care plan for the aged under the Social Security System—favored by President Kennedy and backed by organized labor. Naturally, this is going to cost us—an increase of one-fourth of one per cent in the present social security tax on both employers and employees. (What else?) The big idea behind the legislation is the belief that our aged persons generally are unable to finance their health care... and that passage of the bill will give them an insured lease on life.

Well, we're hot for health and always will be. Our beef is that the figger filberts of this national health insurance scheme are using a wobbly set of figures. Just last month, the top-level Federal Council on Aging reported that about 70 per cent of our older people own their own homes. The others generally live with relatives. Only about 6 per cent live in homes for the aged or other institutions.

Let's look at a specific example—the great state of Indiana. A Hoosier State Commission Agency survey reports that 70 per cent of the 440,000 people 65 or older are able to take care of any and all emergency medical bills; 65 per cent are actually covered by some form of medical insurance; 30 per cent are still gainfully employed. And only 7 per cent—some 29,000 men and women—are being taken care of by the state Welfare Boards. Approximately 25 million dollars is now paid out in Social Security benefits each month in Indiana.

Our senior citizens surely love health. They love something else, too—freedom. Let's let 'em keep it.

A notice was received from the A.B.C. Commission stating that the following hours for the sale of alcoholic beverages on Feb. 22 must be observed: Hotels, Restaurants, Taverns and Clubs, usual hours of business; package goods stores between 1 PM and 11 PM.

A letter was received from the School Committee stating that the Memorial High School may be used for the Annual Town Meeting and that the Annual Town Elections may be held at the North St. and Shawheen St. Schools. SELECTMEN'S
MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Selectmen was held Thursday evening, with Selectmen Doten, MacRae and Statuti present.

In the absence of Chairman Sands, Selectman MacRae made a motion that Selectman Statuti act as chairman for the evening. The motion was seconded by Selectman Doten and voted unanimously. The Board met with Joseph Washburn, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Health, concerning the lack of heat in the Town Hall basement. Those town employees who work in the basement offices have been most uncomfortable because of the temperature of late.

The name of John Lupo, 7 Sylvia Rd., was drawn for Civil Session Jury Duty starting March 6 at Lowell.

The name of Robert H. Guedet, 13 Williams Rd., was drawn for the Jury Pool at Cambridge, starting March 6.

The Board sent a letter to C. Whitney Crawford denying his application to become a member of the Insurance Commission and stating that in January or February of 1960 the Board of Selectmen had made a ruling that a member of the Insurance Commission must have maintained an insurance office in the town for at least two years.

Ralph Costanza, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee, met with the Board.

A public hearing for the acceptance of roads, scheduled at 8:30 PM was held, with no one appearing in opposition. The Board unanimously voted to approve the laying out and acceptance of Eugley Park West, Putnam Rd., Hillview Rd., Putnam Rd., Pomeroy Rd., Redmond Ave., and Hickory Lane.

The Board met with Theodore Tarbox, representing the local post of the American Legion, in reference to an article which was to have been inserted in the Town Warrant concerning the Building on the Common. Mr. Tarbox stated that no agreement had been arrived at concerning the terms of the lease by which the Legion and the VFW had formed a joint responsibility for the building. He further stated that he would like to see the townspeople have one more chance to vote, on the town floor, on the necessary repairs to the building. The building on the Common, one of the town's most outstanding landmarks, is in need of repairs, but the townspeople voted down the necessary appropriation for said repairs at the Annual Town Meeting.

Mrs. Ruth Peterson, Reading, met with the Board regarding Lot 302-Liberty Acres. Sealed bids for this lot were to be opened on January 26, but inasmuch as no bids were received the matter had been tabled. On a motion of Selectman MacRae it was voted to take the matter of the table. The motion was seconded by Selectman Doten, and voted unanimously. Mrs. Peterson then submitted a bid for $75.00 for Lot 302-Liberty Acres. A motion was made by Selectman MacRae and seconded by Selectman Doten that the Board accept the bid and the deed be executed. It was voted unanimously.

Selectman Statuti made a motion that a letter be sent to the Reading Municipal Light Board requesting the installation of electric lights and Poles #9, 12 and 15 on Erwin Road, and Pole #165-2, Woodland drive. The motion was seconded by Selectman MacRae and voted unanimously.

Selectman Doten remarked that he thought a committee should be appointed to study and revise the By-Laws, but no action was taken on this idea.

Town Counsel John Canino was instructed to draw up an option on a site of land near Moynihan's Lumber Land. This land is being considered as a possible site for a sanitary land fill type of dump and the matter of purchasing it will be put to the voters at the Annual Town Meeting.

Hollywood
Beset By Communists

Communists are "openly moving back" into the movie capital of the world.

And some Hollywood studios are hiring Red agents who use fictitious names to get opinion-molding jobs.

So says Chairman Francis Walter of the House Committee on Un-American Activities in the Congressional Record. Walter looked back to the days when public demand forced Hollywood to clean its house of some 300 to 400 party members. And now:

"The Communists are openly moving back into the industry," says the Pennsylvania legislator. "A number of frequently identified Communists are back at work writing, producing or otherwise associated with films—some of which are only thinly-disguised, Communist-serving anti-U. S. propaganda."

Walter admits there's another side to the Hollywood story—the one in which real patriots hold forth.

As an example, Walters cited a recent incident involving Barbara Stanwyck in a filmed TV role.

The script called for her to defend the United States against threats and charges by a Communist agent.

He said she was so carried away she forgot her lines—and ad libbed highly patriotic ones of her own.

NEW HOURS FOR WILM. LIBRARY

In order to expand our research and reading climate for our students, the High School Library is now open until 4 PM each school day.

Today the rate at which knowledge is increasing is truly phenomenal. It behooves parent and educator to provide the means for our children to absorb some of these changes. Many of our pupils are quite capable of coping with this explosion of knowledge and communication. Therefore we want to provide more time for them to use their High School Library for educational investigation.
